

The Little Angels in London

Sunday Service July 6

At the London River South Church

During their London tour, the Little Angels performed at the famous Rose Theatre in Kingston, at a Korean community event, FFWPU Sunday Service and at UPF!

The River South Community is the largest in the UK, and with two worship locations: The Peace Embassy, Thornton Heath & Livingstone House, Chislehurst

A warm welcome from Assistant Pastor Rev. Eun Joo Yang Hoyte,
UPA graduate and Special Youth Envoy

“The Lord is One” performed by RESONANCE— our multigeneration Worship Band
They would love to play at the Pure Water Assembly, if invited!

The Little Angels, aged 10-12, sang a medley of songs, concluding with an “Arirang Rhapsody”

It was wonderful to see the tradition and energy of the Little Angels alive and well.
After 60 years, some of the first Angels must be great-grandmothers by now!

Pastor Adza and Nittaya Mould (back row, right) and the River South Community prepared commemorative gifts for all the Little Angels and the staff.

In her welcoming remarks, Fumiko Balcomb shared about True Parents' vision in starting the Little Angels when Korea was still very poor and food still scarce.

Continental Director Dr. Michael Balcomb delivers a sermon on “God’s Unfinished Business” and shares True Mother’s confidence that victory is coming soon.

After the service, new guests and members shared their experiences.
Following the service, a delicious lunch of Thai curry was served.

For an encore, the Little Angels danced to the hit “APT” by Bruno Mars and Rosé of Black Pink. The dancing was great, but some parents worried about the lyrics!
